ANSWERS TO QUERIES

In response to the request for information relative to my grandfather, John Jackson, and his descendants I submit the following extracts from numerous letters and other documents in my files:

John Jackson and Jane Jeffrey were married at Washington, Penn., in 1817, moved to Lima, Ohio, in 1827, to Monmouth, Ill., in 1837 and to Washington, Iowa, in 1839. Their children were—John (unmarried), Rachel (Holcomb-Buck), Elizabeth (Keck), Samuel (married—eight children), James (father of L. P. Jackson of Brighton), Joseph (unmarried), and Martha (Burrell.) He was a surveyor and surveyed and platted some of the original tracts now constituting the city of Washington. I have a letter dated Jan. 11, 1840, notifying him of appointment as Commissioner to locate certain territorial roads leading from Washington and also containing notification of his appointment as Justice of the Peace.

As before stated he built the first two story frame house in the county. It was framed at the Holcomb mill and erected on the lot where my Father later built the brick house at 504 W. Washington St., now occupied by the Dr. Sartor's. In this house my father and mother were married and there I was born. Grandfather was carried over the Brighton dam and drowned in 1840, buried at the Holcomb mill and, later, reinterred in the "Old" cemetery.

Milo Holcomb and John B. Bullock came from Monmouth, Ill., in 1837 and established a store and trading post. Holcomb went back to Monmouth the following year returning with his bride, Rachel Jackson. My mother came with them and awaited the arrival of her father's family a year later. On Holcomb's return in 1838 he and Bullock built the "Holcomb" mill on Main creek one mile above its junction with Skunk river. Bullock died late in 1838 and Holcomb's death followed in 1840.

I have considerable additional data but presume the above is sufficient for the purposes of your column.

Very truly,

Chas. H. Keck.

P. S.—If "E. H. H." or others desire specific information in regard to the descendants of John Jackson I will be glad to have them write to me direct, stating just what is desired.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Jackson—The following letter concerning the Jackson family comes from Mrs. Albert Phelps of San Diego, Calif. "In looking over a Washington-Democrat Independent of June 9th in the Genealogical Dept., in which I am much interested, there were some questions I can answer, at least in part. John Jackson, had three daughters; Rachel Jackson Holcomb, Elizabeth Jackson Keck and Martha Jackson Burrell. Also three sons, Samuel, James and Joseph. Charles H. Keck of 1734, Taft Ave., Hollywood, Calif., and Mrs. Viola Keck Phelps of 2246, 3rd Ave., San Diego, Calif., are grand children of John Jackson,

The old Jackson house referred to, stood on the lot on West Washington street, where the brick house built in 1866, by Joseph Keck still stands. Both Charles Keck and myself, Viola were born in the old house.

The Jackson house was moved back of the H. A. Burrell property, and Margaret (Maggie) Miller lived in it for several years. When I was back visiting in the old home town twelve years ago, the old house was still standing.

I can give little added information concerning Milo Holcomb. I know he had a mill on Main Creek some miles south of Washington but do not know the exact location.

Very truly yours,

Viola Keck Phelps
